MARCY, H. O., M.D.
MATZINGER, H. G., M.D.
MAYS, T. J., M.D.
McBURNEY, CHAS., M.D.
McCOLLOM, J. H., M.D.
McDONALD, ARTHUR, MR.
McDONALD, WM. G., M.D.
McELROY, J. B., M.D.
McFARLAND, JOS., M.D.
MILLET, C. S., M.D.
MORAS, E. R., M.D.
MORRILL, F. GORDON, M.D.
MORSE, J. L., M.D.
MUNSON, E. L., M.D.
MURPHY, S. F., MR.
MUSSER, J. H., M.D.
MYNTER, HERMAN, M.D.
NAPOLEON, L., M.D.
OTIS, E. O., M.D.
PACKARD, F. A., M.D.
PAINTER, C. F., M.D.
PARK, ROSWELL, M.D.
PEIRSON, E. L., M.D.
PERRY, J. F., M.D.
PFEIFFER, OSCAR J., M.D.
PHELPS, CHAS. D., M.D.
PORTER, C. A., M.D.
PORTER, C. B., M.D.
PORTER, P. BRYNBERG, M.D.
PREBLE, ROBT. B., M.D.
PUTNAM, C. P., M.D.
REYNOLDS, EDWARD, M.D.
RICHARDSON, M. H., M.D.
RIXEY, P. M., M.D.
ROLLINS, WM., MR.
ROTCH, THOS. M., M.D.
SCUDDER, C. L., M.D.
SEARS, GEO. G., M.D.
SHATTUCK, GEO. B., M.D.
SMITH, THEOBALD, M.D.
STANDISH, MYLES, M.D.
STOCKTON, CHAS. G., M.D.
STONE, A. K., M.D.
STONE, J. S., M.D.
TAYLOR, E. W., M.D.
THOMAS, G. H., A.M., M.D.
THOMAS, J. J., A.M., M.D.
THOMPSON, JOHN F., M.D.
THOMSON, SIR WM., C. B., M.D., F.R.C.S.I.
THORNDIKE, PAUL, M.D.
UPHAM, R. H., MR.
VICKERY, H. F., M.D.
VIETOR, AGNES C., M.D.
WALSH, J. J., M.D.
WALTON, GEO. L., M.D.
WASDEN, EUGENE, M.D.
WATSON, F. S., M.D.
WELLS, WALTER A., M.D.
WENTWORTH, A. H., M.D.
WHITE, F. W., M.D.
WHITMAN, R. C., M.D.
WHITNEY, WM. F., M.D.
WILLIAMS, C. T., M.A., M.D., F.R.C.P.
WILLIAMS, E. T., M.D.
WILLIAMS, F. H., M.D.
WOOD, E. S., M.D.
WRIGHT, J. H., M.D.

INDEX TO VOLUME CXLV.

Abdominal Surgery. Cause of diffuse peritonitis complicating appendicitis and its prevention, Ochsner, A. J., 14; the knot within the lumen in intestinal surgery, with report of eight cases, Connell, F. G., 16; autoplastic suture in hernia and other ventral wounds, McArthur, L. L., 19; dissecting abscesses of abdominal wall producing symptoms simulating Pott's disease of the spine, Bullitt, J. B., 21; appendicitis, Deaver, J. B., 42; the scope of vaginal section in the treatment of pus in the pelvis, with a report of eighty-two abdominal sections without mortality, and eighteen vaginal sections with one death, due to accidental causes, Reynolds, E., and Friedman, L. V., 624; prostatic calculus removed through perineal section, Levison, C. G., 626; needless laparotomies, with report of cases, Munro, J. C., 709.

Acromegaly. A case of acromegaly presenting features of unusual interest, Greene, C. L., 73.

Alcoholism. Treatment of delirium tremens, Perry, J. F., 208, 214; on the effect of alcohol, Beyer, H. G., 210, 216; the management of delirium tremens, with the report of a case, Ellsworth, V. A., 212, 214.

Alden, C. H. The U. S. Army system of personal identification, 513, 525.

Alexander, S. The treatment of intraperitoneal traumatic rupture of the bladder by laparotomy and suture, 131.

Allbutt, C. Sanatoria for consumption, 248.

Anatomy. A method for the study of relational anatomy, Jackson, C. M., 18; demonstration of a model of the abdominal viscera, Dwight, T., 179.

Anemia. Pernicious anemia; report of a series of cases, McCrae, T., 46; association of anemia with chronic enlargement of the spleen, Wentworth, A. H., 374, 402, 435, 461, 488.

Anesthesia. General anesthesia in operation upon the nose and throat — nitrous oxid, chloroform and ether, Hopkins, F. E., 296.

Appendicitis. The cause of diffuse peritonitis complicating appendicitis and its prevention, Ochsner, A. J., 14; the mortality of appendicitis, Deaver, J. B., 15; some unusual features of appendicitis and their treatment, La Place, E., 16; appendicitis, Deaver, J. B., 42.

Arloing, S., and Courmont, P. Technique and results of the serum diagnosis in tuberculosis, 248.

Army. The army as a career, 363; report of the surgeon-general of the U. S. Army, 501; rank, pay and promotion in the medical services of the army and navy, 607.

Arsenic. A further report upon the epidemic of arsenical poisoning among beer drinkers in England, 309.

Austin, A. E. The origin of oxalic acid from protein and protein derivatives, 181.

Babcock, R. H. Adherent pericardium, 98.

Bacilli. Coughing a means of disseminating tubercle bacilli, Boston, L. N., 96.

Bacteria. The general character of the problems of public health bacteriology, Hill, H. W., 155.

Baker, F. H. The Erickson murder, 520.

Baker, W. H. Myomectomies for fibroids during the child-bearing period, 213.

Balch, F. G. A case of intussusception; resection of fifty-six inches of small intestine, recovery, 407, 413.

Bang. Some experiments on the temperature necessary for killing tubercle bacilli in milk, 284.

Bangs, L. B. Some of the conditions following the Bottini operation for prostatic obstruction, 164.

Baradat. Remarks on tuberculosis and its treatment, 275.

Bartol, J. W. Report on thoracic diseases, 523.

Baruch, S. Hydrotherapy in chronic diseases, 373, 386.

Bell, J. A case of prostatectomy, 163.

Beclere. Technique of the application of the Röntgen rays in the diagnosis of tuberculosis, 252.

Beebe, W. L. Smallpox, the old and the new, 100.

Beer. A further report upon the epidemic of arsenical poisoning among beer drinkers in England, 309.

Benda. Varieties of tuberculosis, 283.

Beyer, H. G. On the effect of alcohol, 210, 216.

Bibliography. Allingham, W., and Allingham, H. W., the diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the rectum, 658; Anders, J. M., Anders' practice of medicine, 444; Abbott, A. C., the hygiene of transmissible diseases, 336; Ball, J. B., a handbook of the diseases of the nose and pharynx, 686; Bergey, D. H., the principles of hygiene, 550; Berkeley, H. J., a treatise on mental diseases, 526; Berry, J., diseases of the thyroid gland and their surgical treatment, 605; Bryant, J. D., operative surgery, 575; Bulkley, L. D., students' manual series on diseases of the skin, 527; Cabot, R. C., a guide to the clinical examination of the blood for diagnostic purposes, 499; Carrigues, H. J., a textbook of the diseases of women, 444; Carwardine, T., operative and practical surgery, 632; Cheyne, W. W., a manual of surgical therapeutics, 658; Chittenden, R. H., studies in physiological chemistry, 576; Church, A., and Peterson, F., Nervous and Mental Diseases, 550; Coakley, C. G., a manual of diseases of the nose and throat, 500; Cohen, S. S., a system of physiologic therapeutics, 337; Dana, C. L., textbook of nervous diseases, 658; DeLaurence, L. W., hypnotism, 134; De Merie, H., syphilis and other venereal diseases, 550; Ewing, J., clinical pathology of the blood, 23; Fowler, G. R., treatise on appendicitis, 253; Fenwick, E. H., tumors of the urinary bladder, 575; Gasser, H., the circulation in the nervous system, 102; Goldscheider, A., and Jacob, P., handbuch der physikatischen therapie, 336; Gottheil, W. S., syphilis, its diagnosis and treatment, 308; Hare, H. A., a system of practical therapeutics, 336; Heisler, J. C., a textbook of embryology for students of medicine, 527; Hime, M. C., schoolboys' special immorality, 308; Hope, E. W., and Browne, E. A., a manual of school hygiene, 335; Howard, L. O., mosquitoes, how they live, how they carry disease, how they are classified, 499; Hyde, J. N., and Montgomery, F. H., a practical treatise on diseases of the skin, 500; Jackson, G. T., the ready reference handbook of diseases of the skin, 527; Jakob, C., atlas of the nervous system, 134; Janke, O., grundriss der schulhygiene, 550; Kehr, H., introduction to the differential diagnosis of the separate forms of gallstone disease, 285; Lake, R., international directory of laryngologists and otologists, 500; laryngeal phthisis, or consumption of the throat, 526; Leftwich, R. W., an index of symptoms as a clew to diagnosis, 48; Leuf, A. H. P., practical first principles, 500; Martindale, W., and Westcott, W. W., the extra pharmacopeia, 255; Mason, R. O., hypnotism and suggestion in therapeutics, education and reform, 195; Medical News visiting list for 1902, 686; the Medical Record visiting list, or physician's diary for 1902, 658; Norrie, H. S., induction coils, how to make, use and repair them, 134; Oppenheim, H., diseases of the nervous system, 195; Pembrey, M. S., and Phillips, C. D. F., the physiological action of drugs, 576; Potter, S. O. L., a handbook of materia medica, pharmacy and therapeutics, 414; Rabagliati, A., aphorisms, definitions, reflections and paradoxes, medical, surgical and dietetic, 500; Rotch, T. M., Pediatrics, 686; Sachse, H. V., how to cook for the sick and convalescent, 48; Schaeffer, O., atlas and epitome of obstetric diagnosis and treatment, 254; Scudder, C. L., the treatment of fractures, 253; Senn, N., practical surgery for the general practitioner, 605; Shaw, E. R., school hygiene, 224; Shield, A. N., lectures on nasal obstruction, 48; Shoemaker, J. V., diseases of the skin, 527; Simon, C. E., a textbook of physiological chemistry for students of medicine and physicians, 711; Simon, W., manual of chemistry, 549; Starr, L., diseases of the digestive organs in infancy and childhood, 684; Strumpell, A., a textbook of medicine for students and practitioners, 687; Tavera, T. H. P. de, the medicinal plants of the Philippines, 500; physician's visiting list for 1902, 689; Taylor, J. J., physician's pocket account book, 711; Wainwright, J. W., a syllabus of new remedies and therapeutic measures, 255; Webster, J. C., human placentation, 254; White, W. H., materia medica, pharmacy, pharmacology, and therapeutics, 657; Whitman, R., a treatise on orthopedic surgery, 415; Williams, P. W., diseases of the upper respiratory tract, the nose, pharynx and larynx, 685; Yale, L. M., the century book for mothers, 685.

Bielefeldt. Battle against consumption as a sickness of the people on the grounds of the German workmen's insurance, 222.

Biggs. Notification of tuberculosis as existing in New York and various cities in the United States, 187.

Billings, F. Clinical observations in pericarditis, 97.

Blackader, A. D. A discussion of the relation between human and bovine tuberculosis, with special reference to primary infection in children through the alimentary tract, 665, 680.

Blake, J. B. Cases illustrating minor surgery of the kidney, 65, 72.

Blakely, D. N., and Burrows, F. G. Diphtheria as a complication of measles, 89.

Biography. Bayles, G., 726; Beatrice, Sister, 611; Beers, J. E., 664; Bigelow, H., 478; Braman, A. N., 52; Brennan, T. S., 80; Brown, C. H., 478; Conway, J. H., 52; Cooley, R. N., 108; Cornish, A., 394; Crowe, J. M., 532; Day, G. H., 290; Deane, J. R., 664; Edes, R. E., 610, 637; Eldridge, S., 638; Foss, S., 170; Gihon, A. L., 581; Gill, G., 314; Gunter, A. B., 108; Hastings, B. F., 28, 52; Henshaw, G. B., 726; Hinckley, D. R., 504; Hines, F. E., 394; Hudson, W. M., 532; Haage, C. F. W., 478; Harding, W. L., 478; Hartt, J. C., 638; Horlbeck, H. B., 170; Huidekoper, R. S., 692; Jellecker, 52, 70; Jackson, A. 692; Kendall, J. V., 200; Kielty, J. D., 290; MacCormac, W., 663, 689; MacDonald, D. W., 108; McKinley, W., 308, 311, 337, 341, 363; Magness, G. H., 28; Markoe, T. M., 289; Morse, G. M., 366; Norton, J. B., 663; Paddock, F. K., 139, 140; Paré, A., 395, 431; Pero, J. P., 188; Reynolds, T. B., 52; Rice, J. M., 554, 556; Roby, J. W. E., 28; Sanders, J., 503; Smith, S. S., 140; Smith, T. Z., 366; Steinsieck, C. H. G., 664; Styles, S. E., 450; Steadman, A. A., 80; Swan, G. F., 556; Tolman, H. P., 582; Utter, F. A., 692; Virchow, R., 446; Wagoner, H. G., 52; Watson, W. A., 139; Waterman, T. 692; Wells, G. W., 313; Wiley, A. S., 726; Williams, J. A., 230; Wight, J. S., 582.

Blood. The chemical and microscopical examination of the blood, Kelly, W. D., 44; Practical blood examination, Hewes, H. F., 121; a critical note upon clinical methods of measuring blood pressure, Howell, W. H., and Brush, C. E., Jr., 146; eosinophiles as constituents of pus, Williams, E. T., 329; the staining reaction of leucocytes, Whitman, R. C., 449; the chemical properties of leucocytes, Williams, E. T., 278; eosinophile leucocytes and nuclein bases, Williams, E. T., 299; medico-legal examination of blood stains, Wood, E. S., 533.

Bonney, S. G. Discussion upon climatic treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis versus home sanatoria, 300; work at a state hospital for consumptives in New England, 448.

Boston City Hospital, annual report, 529.

Boston, L. N. Coughing a means of disseminating tubercle bacilli; a study of fifty cases, 96.

Bottini. Some of the conditions following the Bottini operation for prostatic obstruction, Bangs, L. B., 164.

Bottomley, J. T. The similarity of the early symptoms of simple abdominal contusion and one accompanied by severe intestinal injury; the need of exploration celiotomy as an early routine measure, 620.

Bowditch, V. Y. The home (sanitarium) treatment versus the climatic treatment of consumption, 328; needs of the Sharon Sanitarium, 365; work at a State hospital for consumptives; a correction, 393; the statistics of the Rutland hospital for consumptives, 505.

Bowen, J. T. Report on Dermatology, 279, 301.

Bracken, H. M. Variola, 101.

Brackett, E. G., and Cotton, F. J. Intermittent hydrops, 484 498.

Bradford, E. H. Forced flexion and adduction in cases of extreme sensitiveness of the hip-joint, 10; new procedures in the treatment of hip disease: operative dislocation and drainage of the acetabulum in acetabular disease, 240.

Brain. The methodical exploration of the brain for fluid, Fenger, C., 14; the immediate and remote effects of brain injury, Fairchild, D. S., 14.

Breast. The pathology of breast carcinoma and its relation to early diagnosis and treatment, Halsted, W. S., and Bloodgood, J. C., 17; the treatment of tumors of the breast, Gleason, J. H., 649.

Browne, J. C. What are the best means of promoting the erection of sanatoria for phthisical patients, 221.

Brownrigg, A. E. The clinical value of some of the newer hypnotics, 61.

Bryson, J. P. Report of a case of nephrectomy for adeno-carcinoma, with remarks on combined cystoscopy and segregation as a guide to the earlier surgical intervention, 132.

Bullitt, J. B. Dissecting abscesses of abdominal wall producing symptoms simulating Pott's disease of the spine, 21.

Burial. Embalming and premature burial, 504.

Burrell, H. L. Problems in medical education, 343.

Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on the progress of surgery, 543, 572, 600.

Burrell, H. L., Lovett, R. W., and Goldthwait, J. E., Report of cases from the second surgical service of the Children's Hospital, Boston, 354.

Cabot, A. T. A discussion of the indications for operation in gastric ulcer, 233; rupture of the urethra, 570.

Cabot, R. C. Suggestions for the improvement of training schools for nurses, 567.

Calculus. The value of the x-ray in the diagnosis of renal stone; report of four cases, Thorndike, P., 132.

Cancer. The nature of the cancerous process, Park, R., 16; present status of the carcinoma question, Senn, N., 17; early diagnosis of carcinoma; methods, Powers, C. A., 17; the pathology of breast carcinoma and its relation to early diagnosis and treatment, Halsted, W. S., and Bloodgood, J. C., 17; carcinoma of the cecum, Mayo, W. J., 17; improved method for resecting high rectal carcinoma, Weir, R. F., 17; the treatment of malignant diseases, Dennis, F. S., 17; the alleged increase of cancer in Massachusetts, Whitney, W. F., 53; cancer of the intestine, Lund, F. B., 236; some cases of cancer treated by the x-rays, Williams, F. H., 294; malignant disease of the tonsil, Hopkins, F. E., 425.

Cannon, W. B. Intracranial pressure after head injuries, 158.

Chadwick, H. D. Two cases of pregnancy complicated by mitral insufficiency, 29, 40.

Chamberlain, W. P. Medical and sanitary conditions in the Philippines, 507.

Chapin, H. D. Report of Milk Commission of Medical Society of County of New York, 420.

Cheever, D. W. Privileged medical communications, 430, 444.

Chetwood, C. H. Contracture of the neck of the bladder, 164.

Children. Report on Pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 11; infantile scurvy, Pierson, E. L., 378; rhachitis, Crandall, A. R., 380; report on pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 655; on the necessity for special study and experience in treating children, Packard, F. A., 671, 682.

Christian Science. Decision against will of a Christian Scientist, 289.

Circulatory System. Two cases of pregnancy complicated by mitral insufficiency, Chadwick, H. D., 29, 40; the chemical and microscopical examination of the blood, Kelly, W. D., 44; the leucocyte count in hemorrhage, Head, G. D., 45; circulatory disturbances accompanying cirrhoses, with inosculation of the portal branches with systemic veins, Stockton, C. G., 46; Clinical observations in pericarditis, Billings, F., 97; pathology and pathogenesis of pericarditis, McFarland, J., 97; the general etiology of pericarditis, Preble, R. B., 98; adherent pericardium, Babcock, R. H., 98; tuberculous pericarditis, McGahan, C. F., 98; cardiac lesions as observed in the negro; with special reference to pericarditis, Jones, F. A., 99; some points in the treatment of pericarditis, Norbury, F. P., 99; practical blood examination, Hewes, H. F., 121; a critical note upon clinical methods of measuring blood pressure, Howell, W. H., and Brush, C. E., Jr., 146; observations on heart disease, Edes, R. T., 348; report on thoracic disease, Bartol, J. W., 523.

Cirrhoses. Treatment of cirrhoses of the liver, Musser, J. H., 45; circulatory disturbances accompanying cirrhoses, with inosculation of the portal branches with systemic veins, Stockton, C. G., 46; cirrhoses of the liver due to metallic poisons, Vaughan, V. C., 47; cirrhoses with pigmentation, Futcher, T. D., 74.

Clap, E. W. Albuminuric retinitis and uremic amaurosis, with especial reference to their occurrence in pregnancy, 31, 41.

Coates, H. An investigation into the presence of infective material in dwellings occupied by consumptive persons, 191.

Coggin, D. "Blind headache," 421.
Colorado not a morgue, but the true tuberculosis hospital, Pfeiffer, O. J., 504.
Congenital elevation of the shoulder, Goldthwait, J. E. and Painter, C. F., 704.
Congress. Impressions of a German Medical Congress, 77.
Connell, F. G. The knot within the lumen in intestinal surgery, with report of eight cases, 16.
Coughing a means of disseminating tubercle bacilli; a study of fifty cases, Boston, L. N., 96.
Crandell, A. R. Rhachitis, 380.
Cretinism. Millet, C. S., 400.
Cumston, C. G. The indications for operation in malignant neoplasms of the stomach, 272; a brief resumé of the life and work of Ambroise Paré, 395, 431, 464; lesions of the bladder during abdominal and vaginal hysterectomy, 561, 602, 629.
Cutaneous System. Report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 279, 301.
Cutler, E. G. Myxedema, 542.
Darnall, W. E. The report of a unique case of chlorosis, 471.
Davenport, F. H. Specialism in medical practice; its present status and tendencies, 81.
Deaver, J. B. The mortality of appendicitis, 15; appendicitis, 42.
Delepine. What exact statistics are there to show the certainty or otherwise of the tuberculin test, and by what means may the application of the tuberculin test towards the eradication of tuberculosis be best secured, 219.
Delirium Tremens. Treatment of delirium tremens, Perry, J. F., 208.
Denison, C. Devitalized air toxemia a prime cause of tuberculosis, 246.
Dennis, F. S. The treatment of malignant diseases, 17.
Dewis, J. W. Congenital pelvic malposition of left kidney in a woman, 35, 42.
Digestive System. Cause of diffuse peritonitis complicating appendicitis and its prevention, Ochsner, A. J., 14; the mortality of appendicitis Deaver, J. B., 15; some unusual features of appendicitis and their treatment, La Place, E., 16; the knot within the lumen in intestinal surgery, with report of eight cases, Connell, F. G., 16; carcinoma of the cecum, Mayo, W. J., 17; improved method for resecting high rectal carcinoma, Weir, W. F., 17; autoplastic suture in hernia and other ventral wounds, McArthur, L. L., 19; acute infective cholangitis and cholecystitis as a complication of gallstones, Eisendrath, D. N., 21; appendicitis, Deaver, J. B., 42; adhesive plaster strapping in umbilical hernia, Hubbard, J. C., 92; demonstration of a model of the abdominal viscera, Dwight, T., 179; bile in the abdominal cavity, Thompson, J. F., 186; the treatment of stricture of the esophagus, Dunham, T., 231; a discussion of the indications for operation in gastric ulcer, Cabot, A. T., 233; cancer of the intestine, Lund, F. B., 236; obstructive diseases of the lower bowel, Marcy, H. O., 268; the indications for operation in the malignant neoplasms of the stomach, Cumston, C. G., 272; a case of intussusception; resection of fifty-six inches of small intestine; recovery, Balch, F. G., 407, 413; two cases of intestinal obstruction due to constricting bands, Elliot, J. W., 408, 412; tubercular peritonitis, Fontaine, H. T., 428, 468; gangrenous appendicitis; general peritonitis; multiple adhesions; gangrene of bowel wall; perforation of bowel; purulent and fecal abscesses; operation; drainage; death; autopsy, Scudder, C. L., 438; hernia epigastrica and fatty tumors in the epigastrium, Lothrop, H. A., 589, 611; the similarity of the early symptoms of simple abdominal contusion and one accompanied by severe intestinal injury; the need of exploration celiotomy as an early routine measure, Bottomley, J. T., 620; the treatment of piles by the injection of carbolic acid, Gay, G. W., 628; acute intestinal obstruction, Gage, H., 679.
Diphtheria. The value of throat cultures in diphtheria, Fussell, M. H., 74; diphtheria as a complication of measles, Blakely, D. N., and Burrows, F. G., 89; an apparent case of diphtherial infection from well persons carrying diphtheria bacilli, White, F. W., 241.
Diplomas. On the establishment of medico-legal diplomas, Johnston, W., 518.
Dunham, T. The treatment of stricture of the esophagus, 231.
Dunn, J. H. Treatment of empyema, 20.
Dwight, T. Demonstration of a model of the abdominal viscera, 179.
Ear. Artificial noses and ears, Upham, R. H., 522; use of antistreptococcus serum in a case of septicemia following mastoid operation; recovery, Hobart, M. F., 641; successful operation upon a case of brain abscess following suppurative middle ear disease, Jack, F. L., 699.
Eastman, J. R. Further report on permanent catheterization, 19.
Edes, R. T. Observations on heart disease, 348.
Editorials. J. P. Morgan's gift to Harvard University, 23; the drawbacks of summer, 24; Milk Commission of the Medical Society of County of New York, 24; the spitting habit once more, 48; the Fourth of July and after, 49; another league, 49; some suggestions regarding medical education, 75; physical therapeutics, 102; the housing of nurses, 103; medical nomenclature, 103; human and bovine tuberculosis, 135; the Vermont School for Health Officers, 136; the need of isolation hospitals, 165; the physician as a legislator: a suggestion, 166; restriction of animal tuberculosis, 195; systematic extermination of mosquitoes, 225; a new medico-military journal, 226; legal rights of physicians, 255; Journal of Medical Research, 256; an excess of zeal, 256; the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 286; the smallpox situation in Boston, 286; rabies in England and Scotland, 287; the attempted assassination of President McKinley, 308; a further report upon the epidemic of arsenical poisoning among beer drinkers in England, 309; the death of President McKinley, 337; the hospital for tuberculosis, 338; opening of the medical schools, 362; the army as a career, 363; pancreatitis as a cause of President McKinley's death, 363; industrial hygiene, 388; wait for the facts in the case, 390; the spread of medical knowledge, 415; International Congress of Nurses, 416; vaccination, a preventive that prevents, 444; Rudolf Virchow, 446; the official report of the case of President McKinley, 473; a pioneer in psychiatry, 474; report of the surgeon-general of the U. S. army, 501; dispensary relief for consumptives, 527; annual report of the Boston City Hospital, 529; administrative efficiency in medical departments, 551; the campaign against mosquitoes, 552; x-ray burns, 576; reorganization of the New York Pathological Institute, 577; ice as a conveyor of disease, 577; the growth of the sanatorium idea, 606; rank, pay and promotion in the medical services of the army and navy, 607; impure ice, 608; the argument relative to vaccination, 632; sanitary improvements in Havana, 635; phototherapy, 659; food in the treatment of epilepsy, 660; report of the surgeon-general of the navy, 687; liberty excludes license in tuberculosis, 689; the death of Sir William MacCormac, 689; annus medicus memi, 711.
Education. Some suggestions regarding medical education, 75; problems in medical education, Burrell, H. L., 343; opening of the medical schools, 362; the spread of medical knowledge, 415; reopening of the army medical school in Washington, D.C., 555.
Egypt. One's health in Egypt, Morrill, F. G., 583, 614.
Eisendrath, D. N. Acute infective cholangitis and cholecystitis as a complication of gallstones, 21.
Elliot, J. W. Two cases of intestinal obstruction due to constricting bands, 408, 412; prostatectomy, 541; two cases of chronic pancreatitis cured by cholycystotomy, 541.
Ellsworth, V. A. The management of delirium tremens, with the report of a case, 212, 214.
Embalming and premature burial, 504.
Epilepsy. Food in the treatment of epilepsy, 660.
Esophagus. The treatment of stricture of the esophagus, Dunham, T., 231.
Espina y Capo, A. The best spittoons to employ are those composed of "hygienic paper," the paper to be burnt immediately after expectoration, 192.
Eve, P. E. Spina bifida, with report of an interesting case, 14.
Extra-Uterine Pregnancy; diagnosis at end of second month; operation; recovery, Pfeiffer, O. J., 36.
Eye. Albuminuric retinitis and uremic amaurosis, with especial reference to their occurrence in pregnancy, Clap, E. W., 31, 41. the pupil in general disease, Jack, E. E., 352; report on progress in opthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 408, 440.
Fairchild, D. S. The immediate and remote effects of brain injury, 14.
Fenger, C. The methodical exploration of the brain for fluid, 14.
Ferguson, G. B. Scientific research, the indispensable basis of all medical and material progress, 116, 141.
Fibroids. Myomectomies for fibroids during the child-bearing period, Baker, W. H., 213.
Fitz, R. H. Surgical tendencies from a medical point of view, 693.
Fontaine, H. T. Advantages of sanatorium treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, 68; tubercular peritonitis, 428, 468.
Fordyce, J. A. Clinical observations on syphilis, 162.
Fourth of July and after, 49.
Fracture. Fracture of the femoral neck, Ruth, C. E., 22.
Francis, G. E. Medical prospects, 1.
Frazier. Operation for the relief of tic douloureux, or trifacial neuralgia, 15.
Fuller, E. Prostatectomy, the method of choice in the management of prostatic obstruction, 19.
Fuller, E. M. A new study in exophthalmic goitre, 304.
Fussell, M. H. The value of throat cultures in diphtheria, 74.
Futcher, T. D. Cirrhoses with pigmentation, 74.
Gage, H. Acute intestinal obstruction, 679.
Gallstones. Under what circumstances (excepting emergencies) is it desirable to operate upon gallstones for radical cure or for relief? Richardson, M. H., 261.
Gangrene. Osler, W., 44.
Gastric Ulcer. A discussion of the indications for operation in gastric ulcer, Cabot, A. T., 233.
Gay, G. W. The treatment of piles by the injection of carbolic acid, 628.
Generative System. Ovarian cyst with twisted pedicle; acute symptoms; operation; recovery, Scudder, C. L., 70; genito-urinary examination by the general practitioner, with demonstrations on patient, Valentine, F. C., 96; inversion of the tunica vaginalis for hydrocele, Greene, R. H., 161; a case of prostatectomy, Bell, J., 163; what I have learned from one hundred and sixty-one operations for the relief of senile hypertrophy of the prostate gland, Howwitz, O., 163; some of the conditions following the Bottini operation for prostatic obstruction, Bangs, L. B., 164; myomectomies for fibroids during the child-bearing period, Baker, W. H., 213; torsion of the spermatic cord; a review of all cases hitherto reported; the details of a recent case treated, Scudder, C. L., 411; prostatectomy, Elliot, J. W., 541; the scope of vaginal section in the treatment of pus in the pelvis, with a report of eighty-two abdominal sections without mortality, and eighteen vaginal sections with one death, due to accidental causes, Reynolds, E., and Friedman, L. V., 624; prostatic calculus removed through perineal section, Levison, C. G., 626.
Gillette, W. J. Report of a case of porro-cæsarean section for placenta previa centralis, 9.
Gleason, J. H. The treatment of tumors of the breast, 649.
Goldthwait, J. E. Abscess in the posterior mediastinum in connection with Pott's disease, 592.
Goitre. A new study in exophthalmic goitre, Fuller, E. M. 304.
Goodale, J. L. A case of nasal deformity from a median furrow, corrected by subcutaneous implantation of a portion of the septal cartilage, 93; the correction of old lateral displacements of the nasal bones, 538, 547; the formation of cysts in the faucial and pharyngeal tonsils, 677.
Goodhart, J. F. Address in Medicine, 171.
Graham, D. Massage and movements in hemiplegia, 652.
Greene, C. L. A case of acromegaly presenting features of unusual interest, 73.
Green, C. M., and Higgins, F. A. A synopsis of a three months' service in the gynecological department of the Boston City Hospital, 643.

Greene, R. H. Inversion of the tunica vaginalis for hydrocele, 161.
Guiteras, R. Prostatotomy versus prostatectomy for prostatic hypertrophy, 19.
Gynecology. The use of gynecology by the general practitioner, Reynolds, E., 291, 315; a synopsis of a three months' service in the gynecological department of the Boston City Hospital, Green, C. M., and Higgins, F. A., 643.
Halsted, W. S., and Bloodgood, J. C. The pathology of breast carcinoma and its relation to early diagnosis and treatment, 17.
Happell, T. J. Further report on pseudo or modified smallpox, 99.
Hare, C. H. Tubal pregnancy with double pyosalpinx, 707.
Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 286.
Harvard University. J. P. Morgan's gift to Harvard University, 23.
Havana. Sanitary improvements in Havana, 635.
Hayden, J. R. Rupture of the urethra; a report of cases, 133.
Head, G. D. The leucocyte count in hemorrhage, 45.
Headache. "Blind headache," Coggin, D., 421.
Health Resorts. Otis, E. O., 357.
Hemorrhoids. The treatment of piles by the injection of carbolic acid, Gay, G. W., 628.
Hernia. Autoplastic suture in hernia and other ventral wounds. McArthur, L. L., 19; hernia reduced "en bloc;" operation and relief of internal strangulation, Porter, C. A., 406, 414; adhesive plaster strapping in umbilical hernia, Hubbard, J. C., 92; hernia epigastrica and fatty tumors in the epigastrium, Lothrop, H. A., 589, 611.
Heron. The therapeutic and diagnostic value of tuberculin in human tuberculosis, 246.
Hewes, H. F. Practical blood examination, 121.
Higgins, F. A. Report on progress in obstetrics, 93, 130.
Hill, H. W. The general character of the problems of public health bacteriology, 155; an investigation of the Boston ice supply, 557.
Hillier, A. The international aspect of the control of tuberculosis, 217.
Hip. Forced flexion and adduction in cases of extreme sensitiveness of the hip joint, Bradford, E. H., 10; hemostasis in amputation at the hip joint, Wyeth, J. A., 18; new procedures in the treatment of hip disease; operative dislocation and drainage of the acetabulum in acetabular disease, Bradford, E. H., 240.
Hobart, M. F. Use of antistreptococcus serum in a case of septicemia following mastoid operation; recovery, 641.
Holmboe, M. Notification of tuberculous diseases in Norway, 188.
Holmes, M. S. A city isolation hospital, 6.
Hoffman. Life insurance in its relation to tuberculosis, 222.
Homans, J. The relation of bodily mutilations to longevity, 152.
Hopkins, F. E. General anesthesia in operation upon the nose and throat — nitrous oxid, chloroform and ether, 296; malignant disease of the tonsil, 425.
Hospital. A city isolation hospital, Holmes, M. S., 6; the need of isolation hospitals, 165.
Howell, W. H., and Brush, C. E., Jr. A critical note upon clinical methods of measuring blood pressure, 146.
Howwitz, O. What I have learned from one hundred and sixty-one operations for the relief of senile hypertrophy of the prostate gland, 163.
Hubbard, J. C. Adhesive plaster strapping in umbilical hernia, 92.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. The Vermont School for Health Officers, 136; the general character of the problems of public health bacteriology, Hill, H. W., 155; industrial hygiene, 388.
Hydrotherapy in chronic disease, Baruch, S., 373.
Hydrops. Intermittent hydrops, Brackett, E. G., and Cotton, F. J., 484, 498.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. The growth of the sanatorium idea, 606; impure ice, 608; the argument relative to vaccination, 632; sanitary improvements in Havana, 635.
Ice. An investigation of the Boston ice supply, Hill, H. W., 557; impure ice, 608.
Ice as a conveyor of disease, 577.
Identification. The U. S. Army system of personal identification, Alden, C. H., 513, 525.
Industrial Hygiene, 388.
Isolation Hospitals. Holmes, M. S., 6; The need of isolation hospitals, 165.
Jack, E. E. The pupil in general disease, 352.
Jackson, C. M. A method for the study of relational anatomy, 18.
Johnston, W. On the establishment of medico-legal diplomas, 518.
Joints. Intermittent hydrops, Brackett, E. G., and Cotton, F. J., 484, 498; pathological lesions in rheumatoid arthritis, Painter, C. F., 593.
Jones, F. A. Cardiac lesions as observed in the negro, with special reference to pericarditis, 99.
Journal of Medical Research, 256.
Josias A., and Roux, J. C. The treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis in children by raw meat and muscle serum, according to the method of MM. Ch. Richet and Héricourt, 252.
Joslin, E. P. Report on progress in therapeutics, 37, 70.
Kelly, W. D. The chemical and microscopical examination of the blood, 44.
Knopf, S. A. State and individual prophylaxis of tuberculosis during childhood, and the need of children's sanatoria, 190.
Koch, R. The fight against tuberculosis in the light of the experience gained in the successful combat of other infectious diseases, 109.
La Place, E. Some unusual features of appendicitis and their treatment, 16.
Legal Medicine. Privileged medical communications, Cheever, D. W., 430; on the establishment of medico-legal diplomas, Johnston, W., 518; the Erickson murder, Baker, F. H., 520; medico-legal examination of blood stains, Wood, E. S., 533.
Legal rights of physicians, 255.
Legislator. The physician as a legislator: a suggestion, 166.
Leonard, C. L. Indications for operation in calculus, nephritis and ureteritis, 21.
Leroy, L. Remarks covering the sanitary features of smallpox, 101.
Levison, C. G. Prostatic calculus removed through perineal section, 626.
Liberty, N. Y., excludes license in tuberculosis, 689.
Life Insurance. The relation of bodily mutilations to longevity, Homans, J., 152; life insurance in its relation to tuberculosis, Hoffman, 222.
Lindsley, C. A. Typhoid fever and filters, 229.
Liver. Treatment of cirrhoses of the liver, Musser, J. H., 45; circulatory disturbances accompanying cirrhoses with inosculation of the portal branches with systemic veins, Stockton, C. G., 46; cirrhoses of the liver due to metallic poisons, Vaughan, V. C., 47; the report of a unique case of chlorosis, Darnall, W. E., 471.
Lothrop, H. A. Hernia epigastrica and fatty tumors in the epigastrium, 589, 611.
Lovett, R. W. The mechanics of lateral curvature as applied to the treatment of severe cases, 479.
Low, H. C. A case of papillary adenocystoma of the thyroid gland, 598.
Lund, F. B. Cancer of the intestine, 236.
Macdonald, A. Measurements of girls in private schools and of university students, 127.
Macdonald, W. G. Reflections on a case of syphilis, 393.
Macdonald, R. C. Some deductions concerning milk modification, 569.
Madeuf, F. A league against seasickness, 288.
Malaria. Some phases of malaria, McElroy, J. B., 43; conference on malaria in New York, 168.
Manley, T. H. On the passing of the trephine, 496.
Marcy, H. O. Obstructive diseases of the lower bowel, 268.
Marine hospital service at the Pan-American Exposition, 168.
Massachusetts General Hospital, 541, 562.
Massage and movements in hemiplegia, Graham, D., 652.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Report on progress in therapeutics, Joslin, E. P., 37, 70; rheumatic stimulants, Walsh, J. J., 47; the clinical value of some of the newer hypnotics, Brownrigg, A. E., 61; general anesthesia in operation upon the nose and throat — nitrous oxid, chloroform and ether, Hopkins, F. E., 296; Hydrotherapy in chronic disease, Baruch, S., 373.
Matzinger, H. G. Report on the bacteriological examination in the case of President McKinley, 461.
Mayo, W. J. Carcinoma of the cecum, 17.
Mays, T. J. Collective investigation of the influence of the silver-nitrate injections on phthisis, 199.
McArthur, L. L. Autoplastic suture in hernia and other ventral wounds, 19.
McCosh, A. J. Remarks on the surgery of the spinal cord with illustrative cases, 14.
McCrae, T. Pernicious anemia, report of a series of cases, 46.
McDougall, A. The working of the voluntary notification of phthisis in the city of Manchester, 188.
McElroy, J. B. Some phases of malaria, 43.
McFarland, J. Pathology and pathogenesis of pericarditis, 97.
McGahan, C. F. Tuberculous pericarditis, 98.
McKinley. The attempted assassination of President McKinley, 308; the shooting of President McKinley, 313; the death of President McKinley, 337; President McKinley's death, 341; pancreatitis as a cause of President McKinley's death, 363; wait for the facts in the case, 390; the case of President McKinley, 451; the official report of the case of President McKinley, 473; report on the bacteriological examination in the case of President McKinley, Matzinger, H. G., 461.
Measles. Diphtheria as a complication of measles, Blakely, D. N., and Burrows, F. G., 89.
Measurements of girls in private schools and of university students, Macdonald, A., 127.
Medical Prospects. Francis, G. E., 1.
Milk. Some deductions concerning milk modification, Macdonald, R. C., 569.
Milk commission of the medical society of county of New York, 24; report of milk commission of medical society of county of New York, 420.
Millett, C. S. Cretinism, 400.
Mind. A pioneer in psychiatry, 474.
Montizambert. Tuberculosis in the Dominion of Canada, 218.
Moras, E. R. A plea for pain and patient, 708.
Morgan, J. P. Gift to Harvard University, 23.
Morrill, F. G. One's health in Egypt, 583, 614.
Mosquitoes. Systematic extermination of mosquitoes, 225; the campaign against mosquitoes, 552.
Munro, J. C. Needless laparotomies, with report of cases, 709.
Murphy, J. D. Pneumactomy and pneumotomy, 20.
Murphy, S. F. What administrative measures are necessary for the prevention of the sale to the public of tuberculous meat, 194.
Musser, J. H. Treatment of cirrhoses of the liver, 45.
Myxedema. Cutler, E. G., 542.
Navy. Rank, pay and promotion in the medical services of the army and navy, 607; report of the surgeon-general of the navy, 687.
Negro. Cardiac lesions as observed in the negro, with special reference to pericarditis, Jones, F. A., 99.
Nervous System. Remarks on the surgery of the spinal cord with illustrative cases, McCosh, A. J., 14; spina bifida, with report of an interesting case, Eve, P. E., 14; the methodical exploration of the brain for fluid, Fenger, C., 14; the immediate and remote effects of brain injury, Fairchild, D. S., 14; operation for the relief of tic douloureux or trifacial neuralgia, Frazier, 15; another league (National locomotor ataxia league), 49; intracranial pressure after head injuries, Cannon, W. B., 158; treatment of delirium tremens, Perry, J. F., 208, 214; the management of delirium tremens with the report of a case, Ellsworth, V. A., 212, 214; a case of myeloma of the spine with compression of the cord, Thomas, J. J., 367; "blind headache," Coggin, D., 421; a case of anomia and paraphasia, Thomas, G. H., 493; on the passing of the trephine, Manley, T. H., 496; massage and movements in hemiplegia, Graham, D., 652; study of the aphasia persisting during convalescence after evacuation of brain abscess, Walton, G. L., 702.

New York State conference of charities, 662.

Niven, J. The administration of the Manchester milk clauses, 1899, 220.

Nomenclature. Medical nomenclature, 103.

Norbury, F. P. Some points in the treatment of pericarditis, 99.

Nose. The after treatment of operation on the nasal accessory sinuses, Wells, W. A., 86; a case of nasal deformity from a median furrow, corrected by subcutaneous implantation of a portion of the septal cartilage, Goodale, J. L., 93; artificial noses and ears, Upham, R. H., 52; the correction of old lateral displacements of the nasal bones, Goodale, J. L., 538, 547.

Nurses. The housing of nurses, 103; international congress of nurses, 416; suggestions for the improvement of training schools for nurses, Cabot, R. C., 567.

Obstetrics. Report on progress in obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 93, 130.

Ochsner, A. J. Cause of diffuse peritonitis complicating appendicitis and its prevention, 14.

Ophuls. Mixed infection in pulmonary tuberculosis, 284.

Orthopraxy. Forced flexion and adduction in cases of extreme sensitiveness of the hip-joint, Bradford, E. H., 10; rachitic deformities of the spine, Stone, J. S., 126; the mechanics of lateral curvature as applied to the treatment of severe cases, Lovett, R. W., 479.

Osborne, O. T. Mental shock, 74.

Osler, W. Gangrene, 44.

Otis, E. O. Health resorts, 357.

Packard, F. A. On the necessity for special study and experience in treating children, 671, 682.

Pain. A plea for pain and patient, Moras, E. R., 708.

Painter, C. F. Pathological lesions in rheumatoid arthritis, 593.

Palate. Cleft palate, Stone, J. S., 539, 548.

Pan-American Exposition. Some medical aspects of the Pan-American Exposition, 78, 106, 139.

Pancreas. Pancreatitis as a cause of President McKinley's death, 363; two cases of chronic pancreatitis cured by cholycystotomy, Elliot, J. W., 541.

Pare. A brief résumé of the life and work of Ambroise Paré, Cumston, C. G., 395, 431, 464.

Park, R. The nature of the cancerous process, 16.

Pathology. Report on pathology, Wright, J. H., 383.

Peirson, E. L. Infantile scurvy, 378.

Perry, J. F. Treatment of delirium tremens, 208, 214.

Petit, L. Prevention of tuberculosis during childhood, 190.

Pfeiffer, O. J. A case of extra-uterine pregnancy, diagnosis at end of second month, operation, recovery, 36; should a tuberculosis hospital be called a morgue? 420; Colorado not a morgue, but the true tuberculosis hospital, 504.

Philippines. Medical and sanitary conditions in the Philippines, Chamberlain, W. P., 507,

Phototherapy, 659.

Physiology. The origin of oxalic acid from protein and protein derivatives, Austin, A. E., 181.

Porter, C. A. Hernia reduced "en bloc," operation and relief of internal strangulation, 406, 414.

Pott's Disease. Abscess in the posterior mediastinum in connection with Pott's disease, Goldthwait, J. E., 592.

Powers, C. A. Early diagnosis of carcinoma, methods, 17.

Preble, R. B. The general etiology of pericarditis, 98.

Pregnancy, affections connected with. Report of a case of porro-Cesarean section for placenta previa centralis, Gillette, W. J., 9; two cases of pregnancy complicated by mitral insufficiency, Chadwick, H. D., 29, 40; albuminuric retinitis and uremic amaurosis, with especial reference to their occurrence in pregnancy, Clap, E. W., 31, 41; a case of extra-uterine pregnancy, diagnosis at end of second month; operation, recovery, Pfeiffer, O. J., 36; tubal pregnancy with double pyosalpinx, Hare, C. T., 707.

Professional man, 26.

Rabies in England and Scotland, 287.

Recent Progress. Pediatrics, Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L., 11, 655; therapeutics, Joslin, E. P., 37, 70; obstetrics, Higgins, F. A., 93, 130; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 279, 301; pathology, Wright, J. H., 383; ophthalmology, Standish, M., and Hall, W. D., 408, 440; thoracic disease, Bartol, J. W., 523; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 543, 572, 600.

Respiratory System. Pneumactomy and pneumotomy, Murphy, J. D., 20; removal of foreign bodies from the trachea and bronchi, Willard, DeF., 20; treatment of empyema, Dunn, J. H., 20; advantages of sanatorium treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, Fontaine, H. T., 68; report on thoracic disease, Bartol, J. W., 523; twelve cases of pneumonia treated by antipneumococcus serum, Sears, G. G., 639.

Reynolds, E. The use of gynecology by the general practitioner, 291, 315; the scope of vaginal section in the treatment of pus in the pelvis with a report of eighty-two abdominal sections without mortality, and eighteen vaginal sections with one death, due to accidental causes, 624.

Rhachitis. Crandell, A. R., 380.

Rheumatism. Rheumatic stimulants, Walsh, J. J., 47; pathological lesions in rheumatoid arthritis, Painter, C. F., 593.

Richardson, M. H. Under what circumstances (excepting emergencies) is it desirable to operate upon gallstones for radical cure or for relief? 261.

Richmond. The relative advantages in the prevention of acute tuberculosis of the use of sterilized milk, pasteurized milk and milk obtained from herds free from tuberculosis, 221.

Robertson. Influence of housing and aggregation on the prevalence of tuberculosis and the possibility of improving our present conditions in this respect, 188; by what means can a higher standard of lighting and cleanliness be attained in households, factories, etc., and what legislation, if any, is required to render these advantages available, 191.

Robin, A. The nature and diagnosis of predisposition in tuberculosis; therapeutic considerations, 248.

Rollins, W. Notes on x-light: radiable windows in x-light tubes, 676.

Rontgen. New method of skiagraphic diagnosis for renal and ureteral surgery, Schmidt, L. E., and Kolischer, G., 19; the value of the x-ray in the diagnosis of renal stone: report of four cases, Thorndike, P., 132; some cases of cancer treated by the x-rays, Williams, F. H., 294; on the use of the Röntgen rays in the diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis, Walsham, 251; technique of the application of the Röntgen rays in the diagnosis of tuberculosis, Beclere, 252; the value of the Röntgen ray in the diagnosis of renal stone; report of four cases, Thorndike, P., 423; x-ray burns, 576; notes on x-light: radiable windows in x-light tubes, Rollins, W., 676.

Rotch, T. M., and Morse, J. L. Report on pediatrics, 11, 655.

Ruota. Compulsory and noncompulsory notification, 189.

Ruth, C. E. Fracture of the femoral neck, 22.

Sanatorium. The growth of the sanatorium idea, 606.

Schmidt, L. E., and Kolischer, G. New method of skiagraphic diagnosis for renal and ureteral surgery, 19.

Scientific Research: the indispensable basis of all medical and material progress, Ferguson, G. B., 116; 141.

Scudder, C. L. Ovarian cyst with twisted pedicle: acute symptoms; operation; recovery, 70; torsion of the spermatic cord; a review of all cases hitherto reported; the details of a recent case treated, 411; gangrenous appendicitis; general peritonitis; multiple adhesions; gangrene of bowel wall; perforation of bowel; purulent and fecal abscesses; operation; drainage; death; autopsy, 438.

Scurvy. Infantile scurvy, Peirson, E. L., 378.

Sears, G. G. Twelve cases of pneumonia treated by antipneumococcus serum, 639.

Seasickness. A league against seasickness, Madeuf, F., 288.

Senn, N. Present status of the carcinoma question, 17.

Sharon. Needs of the Sharon sanitarium, Bowditch, V. Y., 305.

Shock. Mental shock, Osborne, O. T., 74.

Shoulder. Congenital elevation of the shoulder, Goldthwait, J. E., and Painter, C. F., 704.

Smallpox. Further report on pseudo, or modified, smallpox, Happell, T. J., 99; smallpox — the old and the new, Beebe, W. L., 109; remarks covering the sanitary features of smallpox, Leroy, L., 101; the diagnosis of mild smallpox as in the present outbreak of smallpox in this country, Spalding, H., 101; variola, Bracken, H. M., 101; smallpox situation in Boston, 286.

Societies. American association of genito-urinary surgeons, 131, 161; American medical association, 14, 42, 73, 96; Boston society for medical improvement, 214, 356, 498, 525, 547; British congress on tuberculosis, 186, 217, 242, 281, 306; Harvard medical alumni association, 286; Maine medical association, 303; Massachusetts medical society, 443; obstetrical society of Boston, 72, 709; Pan-American Exposition, 78, 106, 139, 168, 198, 477; Suffolk district medical society, 40, 331, 386, 411, 602, 629, 680.

Spalding, H. The diagnosis of mild smallpox as in the present outbreak of smallpox in this country, 101.

Specialism in medical practice; its present status and tendencies, Davenport, F. H., 81.

Spermine crystals in pus, Williams, E. T., 355.

Spina bifida, with report of an interesting case, Eve, P. E., 14.

Spine. Remarks on the surgery of the spinal cord with illustrative cases, McCosh, A. J., 14; spina bifida, with report of an interesting case, Eve, P. E., 14; rachitic deformities of the spine, Stone, J. S., 126.

Spitting. The spitting habit once more, 48.

Spleen. Association of anemia with chronic enlargement of the spleen, Wentworth, A. H., 374, 402, 435, 461, 488.

Standish, M., and Hall, W. D. Report on progress in ophthalmology, 408, 440.

Stern, H. Osmotic pressure and its relation to uremic manifestations, 45.

Sting. A fatal sting, 365.

Stockton, C. G. Circulatory disturbances accompanying cirrhoses, with inosculation of the portal branches with systemic veins, 46.

Stone, A. K. Impressions of the British Congress on tuberculosis, 258; sound arguments for the proposed Boston hospital for consumptives, 449.

Stone, J. S. Rachitic deformities of the spine, 126; cleft palate, 539, 548.

Study of the aphasia persisting during convalescence after evacuation of brain abscess, G. L. Walton, 702.

Successful operation upon a case of brain abscess following suppurative middle ear disease, Jack, F. L., 699.

Summer. The drawbacks of summer, 24.

Surgery. Address in surgery, Thomson, W., 201; report of cases from the second surgical service of the Children's Hospital, Boston, Burrell, H. L., Lovett, R. W., and Goldthwait, J. E., 354; report on the progress of surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 543, 572, 600.

Surgical tendencies from a medical point of view, Fitz, R. H. 693.

Syphilis. Clinical observations on syphilis, Fordyce, J. A., 162; reflections on a case of syphilis, Macdonald, W. G., 393.

Therapeutics. Report on progress in therapeutics, Joslin, E. P., 37, 70.

Thomas, G. H. A case of anomia and paraphasia, 493.

Thomas, J. J. A case of myeloma of the spine, with compression of the cord, 367.

Thompson, J. F. Bile in the abdominal cavity, 186.

Thompson, S. The open-air treatment in institutions and in nursing homes, 252.

Thomson, W. Address in surgery, 201.

Thorndike, P. The value of the x-ray in the diagnosis of renal stone: report of four cases, 132, 423.

Thorne, B. The national importance of gratuitous bacteriological examination, 218.
Thyroid Gland. Cretinism, Millet, C. S., 400; a case of papillary adenocystoma of the thyroid gland, Low, H. C., 598.
Tonsil. Malignant disease of the tonsil, Hopkins, F. E., 425; the formation of cysts in the faucial and pharyngeal tonsils, Goodale, J. L., 677.
Trephine. On the passing of the trephine, Manley, T. H., 496.
Tuberculosis. Coughing a means of disseminating tubercle bacilli: a study of fifty cases, Boston, L. N., 96; the fight against tuberculosis in the light of the experience gained in the successful combat of other infectious diseases, Koch, R., 109; human and bovine tuberculosis, 135; notification of tuberculosis as existing in New York and various cities in the United States, Biggs, 187; the working of the voluntary notification of phthisis in the city of Manchester, McDougall, A., 188; notification of tuberculous diseases in Norway, Holmboe, M., 188; influence of housing and aggregation on the prevalence of tuberculosis and the possibility of improving our present conditions in this respect, Robertson, 188; compulsory and noncompulsory notification, Ruota, 189; prevention of tuberculosis during childhood, Petit, L., 190; state and individual prophylaxis of tuberculosis during childhood and the need of children's sanatoria, Knopf, S. A., 190; an investigation into the presence of infective material in dwellings occupied by consumptive persons, Coates, H., 191; by what means can a higher standard of lighting and cleanliness be attained in households, factories, etc., and what legislation, if any, is required to render these advantages available, Robertson, 191; the best spittoons to employ are those composed of "hygienic paper," the paper to be burnt immediately after expectoration, Espina y Capo, A., 192; what administrative measures are necessary for the prevention of the sale to the public of tuberculous meat, Murphy, S. F., 194; restriction of animal tuberculosis, 195; collective investigation of the influence of the silver-nitrate injections on phthisis, Mays, T. J., 199; the international aspect of the control of tuberculosis, Hillier, A., 217; tuberculosis in the Dominion of Canada, Montizambert, 218; the national importance of gratuitous bacteriological examination, Thorne, B., 218; what exact statistics are there to show the certainty or otherwise of the tuberculin test, and by what means may the application of the tuberculin test towards the eradication of tuberculosis be best secured, Delepine, 219; the administration of the Manchester milk clauses, Niven J., 220; the relative advantages in the prevention of acute tuberculosis of the use of sterilized milk, pasteurized milk and milk obtained from herds free from tuberculosis, Richmond, 221; what are the means of promoting the erection of sanatoria for phthisical patients, Browne, J. C., 221; battle against consumption as a sickness of the people on the grounds of the German workmen's insurance, Bielefeldt, 222; life insurance in its relation to tuberculosis, Hoffman, 222; the treatment of consumption by climate, Williams, C. T., 243; classification of cases of tuberculosis, Yeo, B., 244; devitalized air toxemia a prime cause of tuberculosis, Denison, C., 246; the therapeutic and diagnostic value of tuberculin in human tuberculosis, Heron, 246; the nature and diagnosis of predisposition in tuberculosis, therapeutic considderations, Robin, A, 248; technique and results of the serum diagnosis in tuberculosis, Arloing, S., and Courmont, P., 248; sanatoria for consumption, Albutt, C., 248; on the use of the Röntgen rays in the diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis, Walsham, 251; technique of the application of the Röntgen rays in the diagnosis of tuberculosis, Beclere, 252; the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis in children by raw meat and muscle serum according to the method of MM. Ch. Richet and Héricourt, Josias, A., and Roux, J. C., 252; the open-air treatment in institutions and nursing homes, Thompson, S., 252; impressions of the British congress on tuberculosis, Stone A. K., 258; remarks on tuberculosis and its treatment, Baradat, 275; the morphological and physiological variations of the bacillus tuberculosis and its relations to other bacteria resistant to acids and to the streptothryces, 281; the infectiousness of the milk of tuberculous cows, bacteriological diagnosis and the practical value of tuberculin for the extermination of tuberculosis among cattle, 281; varieties of tuberculosis, Benda, 283; some experiments on the temperature necessary for killing tubercle bacilli in milk, Bang, 284; mixed infection in pulmonary tuberculosis, Orphuls, 284; discussion upon climatic treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis versus home sanatoria, Bonney, S. G., 300; resolutions on tuberculosis, 307; the home (sanitarium) treatment versus the climatic treatment of consumption, Bowditch, V. Y., 328; the hospital for tuberculosis, 338; work at a state hospital for consumptives, Bowditch, V. Y., 393; should a tuberculosis hospital be called a morgue, Pfeiffer, O. J., 420; tubercular peritonitis, Fontaine, H. T., 428, 468; work at a state hospital for consumptives in New England, Bonney, S. G., 448; sound arguments for the proposed Boston hospital for consumptives, Stone, A. K., 449; Colorado not a morgue, but the true tuberculosis hospital, Pfeiffer, O. J., 504; the statistics of the Rutland hospital for consumptives, Bowditch, V. Y., 505; dispensary relief for consumptives, 527; a discussion of the relation between human and bovine tuberculosis with special reference to primary infection in children through the alimentary tract, Blackader, A. D., 665, 680; Liberty excludes license in tuberculosis, 689.
Tuttle, J. P. A case of unusual bacillus or abnormally behaved gonococci, 162; partial excision of the bladder and urethra for carcinoma, 162.
Typhoid fever and filters, Lindsley, C. A., 229.
Upham, R. H. Artificial noses and ears, 522.
Urinary System. New method of skiagraphic diagnosis for renal and ureteral surgery, Schmidt, L. E., and Kolischer, G., 1; prostatotomy versus prostatectomy for prostatic hypertrophy, Guiteras, R., 19; prostatectomy the method of choice in the management of prostatic obstruction, Fuller, E., 19; further report on permanent catheterization, Eastman, J. R., 19; indications for operation in calculus, nephritis and ureteritis, Leonard, C. L., 21; albuminuric retinitis and uremic amaurosis with especial reference to their occurrence in pregnancy, Clap, E. W., 31, 41; congenital pelvic malposition of left kidney in a woman, Dewis, J. W., 35, 42; osmotic pressure and its relations to uremic manifestations, Stern, H., 45; cases illustrating minor surgery of the kidney, Blake, J. B., 65, 72; genito-urinary examination by the general practitioner, with demonstrations on patient, Valentine, F. C., 96; the treatment of intraperitoneal traumatic rupture of the bladder by laparotomy and suture, Alexander, S., 131; report of a case of nephrectomy for adenocarcinoma, with remarks on combined cystoscopy and segregation as a guide to the earlier surgical intervention, Bryson, J. P., 132; the value of the x-ray in the diagnosis of renal stone, report of four cases, Thorndike, P., 132; rupture of the urethra, a report of cases, Hayden, J. R., 133; a case of unusual bacillus or abnormally behaved gonococci, Tuttle, J. P., 162; partial excision of the bladder and urethra for carcinoma, Tuttle, J. P., 162; a case of prostatectomy, Bell, J., 163; what I have learned from one hundred and sixty-one operations for the relief of senile hypertrophy of the prostate gland, Howwitz, O., 163; some of the conditions following the Bottini operation for prostatic obstruction, Bangs, L. B., 164; contracture of the neck of the bladder, Chetwood, C. H., 164; movable kidney, with special reference to its consequences and its etiology with the report of post-mortem observations made by the writer in some cases of movable kidney, Watson, F. S., 318, 331; a new factor in the etiology of visceral ptosis; the relation of the modern corset to this factor; a preliminary communication, Vietor, A. C., 325, 335; prostatectomy, Elliot, J. W., 541; prostatic calculus removed through perineal section, Levison, C. G., 626; lesions of the bladder during abdominal and vaginal hysterectomy, Cumston, C. G., 561, 602, 629.
Vaccination: a preventive that prevents, 444; the argument relative to vaccination, 632.
Valentine, F. C. Genito-urinary examination by the general practitioner, with demonstration on patient, 96.
Vaughan, V. C. Cirrhoses of the liver due to metallic poisons, 47.
Vermont school for health officers, 136.
Vickery, H. F. Probable mediastinal sarcoma with secondary adenitis, 571.
Vietor, A. C. A new factor in the etiology of visceral ptosis; the relation of the modern corset to this factor; a preliminary communication, 325, 335.
Virchow Fund, 27.
Virchow, R., 446.
Vivisection Statistics, 27.
Walsh, J. J. Rheumatic stimulants, 47.
Walsham. On the use of the Röntgen rays in the diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis, 251.
Watson, F. S. Movable kidney, with special reference to its consequences and its etiology, with the report of post-mortem observations made by the writer in some cases of movable kidney, 318, 331.
Weir, R. F. Improved method for resecting high rectal carcinoma, 17.
Wells, W. A. The after-treatment of operation on the nasal accessory sinuses, 86.
Wentworth, A. H. Association of anemia with chronic enlargement of the spleen, 374, 402, 435, 461, 488.
White, F. W. An apparent case of diphtherial infection from well persons carrying diphtheria bacilli, 241.
Whitman, R. C. The staining reaction of leucocytes, 449.
Whitney, W. F. The alleged increase of cancer in Massachusetts, 53.
Willard, DeF. Removal of foreign bodies from the trachea and bronchi, 20.
Williams, C. T. The treatment of consumption by climate, 243.
Williams, E. T. The chemical properties of leucocytes, 278; eosinophile leucocytes and nuclein bases, 299; eosinophiles as constituents of pus, 329; spermine crystals in pus, 355.
Williams, F. H. Some cases of cancer treated by the x-rays, 294.
Wood, E. S. Medico-legal examination of blood stains, 533.
Wright, J. H. Report on pathology, 383.
Wyeth, J. A. Hemostasis in amputation at the hip-joint, 18.
Yeo, B. Classification of cases of tuberculosis, 244.